Something Special
Sam Dilbeck

As a boy, I loved visiting Grandma. She always welcomed us with a smile, hug, and cake. At Grandma's house every trouble disappear and every grandchild was special. I remember the sweetness of her glazed lemon cakes balanced with a tartness that bore itself into my memory. I still hear her chuckle spreading magically through the house. I also remember in the middle bedroom a photocopied picture tacked to the wall with a grumpy boy staring out from beneath the words, "I know I'm somebody because God don't make no junk." It reinforce Grandma's lessons, that each of us were exceptional.

Grandma taught us an invaluable truth—God made man special. The greatness of humanity starts with its place in the creation. God said, "Let Us make man in our image" (Gen. 1:26). No other part of creation reflects the image of God. No animal, planet, star, or flower has this distinction. God made man the pinnacle of His creation. Man also contains the breath of God (Gen. 2:7). After God formed man from the dirt, He animated the lifeless body with His own breath. The seagulls did not spring to life with the breath of God. Nor did the gazelle, geranium, or Fido, the family cat.

God also made man special by giving him special instructions, “Be fruitful and multiply and fill the earth and subdue it and have dominion over the fish of the sea and over the birds of the heavens and over every living thing that moves on the earth. Behold, I have given you every plant yielding seed that is on the face of all the earth, and every tree with seed in its fruit. You shall have them for food.” (Gen. 1:28-29). Neither the enormous elephant, nor the towering redwoods, nor the fierce lion received instructions to rule over the earth. In fact God created all these resources to sustain mankind. This makes humans extraordinary.

But the image, breath, and Law of God in man’s creation cannot compare to the greatness of man’s re-creation. As man sinned, his luster wore away. His initial holiness tarnished. Pride, envy, lust, hatred, malice, and selfishness consume mankind. Sin ruin greatness. God was not satisfied.

Therefore, God sent Jesus, His son into the world to establish the righteous example. Jesus kept man’s righteous obligation before God. Then He took the guilt of all of mankind’s sins and died as the necessary sacrifice to appease God’s holy wrath. In return He asked simple obedience and allegiance.

When man obeys, God takes His tools of grace, and chisels away the sin, polishes the dingy spots, and re-creates man in the image of Jesus, “For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus for good works, which God prepared beforehand, that we should walk in them” (Eph. 2:10). Better than the beginning. That’s true greatness.

Grandma was right, “God don’t make no junk.” But even better, God restores the wreck we made of our lives. No life is broken, abused, wrecked, disregarded, forgotten, or sin-sick enough that God cannot fix it.

Bring Christ your broken life.

Live Stream Change

The Lord’s church in Brighton is a spiritual family that is committed to helping one another. To help facilitate that, we have a long-standing practice of offering an invitation at the conclusion of our sermons. This is designed to allow members a special opportunity to express their needs and to request assistance and prayers from the rest of their church family, which is a valuable blessing.

However, in order for that to be effective, those who might want to “come forward” during the invitation song must feel comfortable doing so. We believe that live streaming the entire service, including this time, may pose a potential hindrance to our members.

In order to protect members’ privacy and to allow everyone to be able to take full advantage of the invitation, beginning February 6th we will be ending the live streaming directly after the end of the sermon. In this way, we hope to create an atmosphere that is more conducive to people responding to the invitation. We want members to know that their concerns and struggles will not be broadcast and there will not be an audience larger than our local congregation. We pray that this change will be a benefit our church family here. The elders
